Planning for the Future

CHALLENGES

- Identify new space to serve clients
- Leasing from a for-profit entity can significantly add to operating costs because of property taxes
- Prohibited from owning property by statute
- 90% of funding is grant pass-through, limiting funding available for space acquisition
- The lack of secure space does not provide stability

SOLUTIONS

- Explore legislative change to allow for property ownership
- Identify space that meets the RPC's needs
- Identify funding to purchase and renovate property

IDEAL

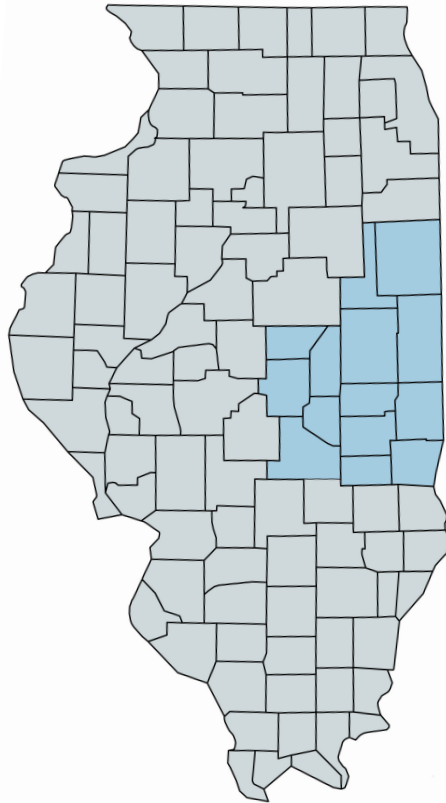

- Combine more services under one roof
- Centrally locate in the community
- 25,000-35,000 square feet
- Secure space that keeps overhead costs low and directs the most grant funding possible to services

IMPACT

- Stable and secure space for the future operation of the RPC
- Continue providing quality services for thousands of people in our community every year
- In 2023, the RPC served more than 16,000 clients through its Community Services (13,726), Workforce Development (1,595+), and Early Childhood Education (750+) divisions alone.
